1. He Has A Lingering Smile

A guy who is giving you a lingering smile is flirting with you. He is doing that in order to see how you react to it. Will you respond with a smile or just look away? He is gauging just how interested you may or may not be in him.

2. He Has A Lingering Gaze With His Head Cocked To The Side

He may not necessarily be smiling at you in this instance but he is gazing at you with his head cocked. He is essentially trying to observe you and is doing so intently. Moments like this he is thinking about what you may be thinking at that point. If you catch his eye, he may straighten his head but keep the gaze going.

3. He Leans Back With One Arm Resting On The Top Of His Seat

A guy typically does this when he is conveying the message of being in charge. He is flirting with you in trying to show you that he is cool and in tune with himself. As he looks your way from time to time with this posture, he is laying down his territory and showing you that he wants you to know that he is very comfortable with himself.

4. He Leans Back And Spreads His Legs

He is doing this to show that he is open to you. He is keeping his body open, he is inviting you to come in. With his legs open and his back leaning against his chair, he is telling you that he is open to talking to you and he would be fun to talk to because he isn't uptight at all.

5. He Compliments Your Physical Appearance In Detail

He often compliments your physical appearance in a way that is detailed and tailored to you. This is done over time. He notices how you look one day to the next. He compliments that look and even gets as specific as telling you that you look even better with that style than you did last week with the other style.

6. He Touches You Lightly Often

He does this to create a physical connection to you. It is a light touch on the upper or lower arm or your upper thigh or your lower back. This touch lingers for a few seconds before he takes it away. Then he does it again. This kind of light touching is an attempt to make you feel safe around him and give you a sense of ease.

7. He Gently Looks You Up And Down With His Head

He does this gently and deliberately. The idea is to get you to see that he is into you and wants to know more about you. He also wants to show that he finds you to be a stand out and thereby you deserve this kind of admiration. He follows this with looking at you directly in the eye in the hopes that you notice what he just did and you do the same to him.

8. He Runs His Fingers Softly Back And Forth On Your Lower Arm

This is a little bit more deliberate than merely touching you. Running his fingers softly back and forth on the front of your lower arm is a show of affection through flirtation. He wants to observe how your body reacts to what he is doing. If you are smiling back at him or leaning further into his touch, he knows that he is having the desired effect of getting you relaxed and receptive to him.

9. He Gets Really Close To You

He breaks the personal space barrier that most of us have. You notice that he is constantly doing this. He is so close to your face that you may even be able to feel his breath on you. He does this in order to show you that he is not afraid to get close and be different from the rest. He wants to set himself apart from all the other guys who maintain the normal distance from you.

10. He Nibbles His Lower Lip

He makes it a habit to softly nibble his lower lip when you are looking at him. He does this with the intent of making you feel like he is really consumed with you at that moment. He may be in a fantasy world envisioning what it would be like to be with you intimately. He is so into what he is fantasizing about that the intensity manifests in him nibbling on his lip while looking your way.

11. He Gently Runs His Hand Through Your Hair Over And Over

You notice that he tends to run his hand through your hair as you talk to him or interact with him. He may not even be saying anything in reference to what he is doing. He could be talking about something completely unrelated to that. However, he keeps running his hand gently through your hair. This is how he tries to connect with you on a deeper level in order to get you to feel more comfortable in his presence.

12. He Keeps His Lips Slightly Open

He uses his lips in this instance to convey the message of being open to you. Whether he is talking to you or just happens to be in your presence, you notice that his lips tend to be slightly open. That draws your attention to his lips. It makes you wonder what it would be like to kiss them.

13. He Tells Sexual Jokes

He may not always be directing the sexual jokes at you, however he does make sure that you are within earshot of them. He says them for a couple of reasons. He is trying to get you to laugh but he is also trying to get you to visualize. If you are visualizing what he just said, you are thinking about sex or at least something close to it. While he is in your presence, this is a frame of mind that he wants you to be in because you could put him in your vision.

14. He Talks About His Ex-Girlfriends

He may not care for his ex-girlfriends at all. However, he does start talking about them when you are around. He talks about things that they were good at and how attractive they were. He does this so that you begin to unconsciously compare yourself to them. You wonder if you are just as attractive as they are to him or if you are just as dynamic. He is in your thoughts now and he hopes that he stays there long after your conversation with him has concluded.

15. He Calls You Sexy Nicknames

He often calls you a sexy nickname when you see him or talk to him. He has a new one almost every single time. It could be a sexy nickname in reference to an attractive celebrity that you look like or a sexy nickname in reference to the sexy persona that he believes you give off. It's done to make you feel good about yourself and warm up to him.

16. He Feeds You

He often does this to make his experience with you more intimate. You may have run into him and he happens to be eating something. During the discussion he puts some of what he has been eating to your lips. By opening your lips and allowing him to feed you, you are subconsciously telling him that you are willing to let him into your comfort zone and that you trust him. This opens up your mind to thinking about other ways that you could be intimate with him.

17. He Puts His Clothing On You

He may take his cap off and put it on your head as he interacts with you. He may take off his jacket or dress shirt and wrap it around you if you feel exposed or cold. He may take off his bracelet and put it around your wrist because you just keep looking at it. When he does these exchanges, he is putting not only his clothing on you but his scent. You get to smell him. This gives you a sense of him that is so unique. Every time you see him, you remember his smell and feel a stronger connection to him.

18. He Talks To Other Girls While Looking In Your Direction

He is talking to other girls while you are around. You notice that he looks at you from time to time as he converses with them. You notice that he is touching these girls quite often and even making them laugh. However, he keeps looking at you as he interacts with them. He is indirectly flirting with you when he does this. He wants to get you to keep looking at him. He wants your head and body to be constantly moving in his direction so that he can get you envisioning what it would be like to be one of those girls.

19. He Brags About His Sexual Prowess

He may do this in a subtle way or in a brash way. However, you hear him often talk about how good he is in the bedroom. He talks about it in a way that isn't just about high praise for himself but also about how good he can really make a girl feel. If he uses the subtle approach with this, he mentions it in passing and doesn't dwell on it. If he is being blatant, he makes it one of the first things he talks about whenever he is interacting with you.

20. He Leans Against The Wall With One Leg Up While Looking At You

He is posing here but he is doing it in a way to invite you in. It is his way to let you know that he is a confident guy and he is chill. He is so secure in himself that he can just be this way and look at you. Perhaps you want to come over and talk to him. Perhaps you would be willing to touch his bent knee as you both chat. It is an invitation for you to come to him.

21. He Makes Fun Of You

He does this to make you laugh but to also humble you a little bit. It is a form of flirting that tends to be very effective because it makes you confused. On the one hand, you are cracking up but on the other hand, you wonder if he just insulted you. It makes him unpredictable and provocative. You then have to decide which side of your emotions you are going to stick with. The side that is finding him hilarious or the side that may think he is being insulting.

22. He Fiddles With What Is In Your Handbag

He typically doesn't ask for permission when he does this. You may be interacting with him and all of a sudden he starts fiddling with your handbag, his hand trying to explore what is within. Typically you would react by pulling it away or asking him what he is doing. It is a bold move but it normally works in flirting because it makes you react. How could he? That may be what you are thinking but on the flip side, you may also admire that he has that kind of audacity. You are just not willing to admit it quite yet.

23. He Grabs An Item From You And Refuses To Give It Back

He takes an item from you and doesn't give it back right away. He may have taken something from your handbag or something that you gave to him only for him to examine and give back. However, he holds onto it. You begin to reach out to him, touching him in the process in an attempt to get it back. He playfully keeps it away from you. You struggle with him for a while and he eventually gives it back. He has gotten you to touch him all over without you even realizing what he was doing.

24. He Sends You Texts With Love Emojis

He uses emojis of love or romance when he texts you. He does this often. You both may be talking about something completely unrelated to romance and yet he still sends his text responses with love emojis. He could use love emojis of hearts, stars etc. The idea is to convey the message that he is flirting with you even when you are both engaged in a totally different topic of discussion.

25. He Wants To Fall Asleep While Talking To You On The Phone

He often talks to you on the phone for hours into the night and falls asleep while still in conversation with you. He does this often. Your initial reaction may be that he is being rude. However, when a guy does this often, he is flirting with you in the sense that he wants to fall asleep while hearing your voice. He wants this both ways. He also wants you to fall asleep to the sound of his voice at some point.

26. He Cooks For You Often

Cooking is a very strong form of flirting. If he has cooked for you a few times, he is flirting with you. He wants you to get a taste of the food and have it appeal to your senses. When you enjoy what you are eating that he prepared, you begin to associate him with what feels good. You may even find yourself subconsciously smelling the food when you are out and about. The thought of those smells connect you to thoughts of him.

27. He Play Fights With You Often

He creates a constant feeling of physical closeness and fun when he play fights with you. You are both having fun while continuously touching, holding and getting close to each other. There is some aggression and some softness. A combination of these elements create an environment of intimacy and looseness that could easily lead to much more as time goes on.

28. He Tells You To Keep Something That He Lent You

You may have taken something from him while you were at his place or you were interacting with him. It could have been an item, clothing, etc. You tell him that you intend to give it back or you offer it back and he tells you to keep it. This is how he gets to flirt with you when he isn't even there with you physically. Whenever you look at that item or that piece of clothing, you think of him.

29. He Lightly Taps Your Lower Body

He may lightly tap your hips, thighs, belly or the small of your back from time to time. This is a way for him to flirt with you but also try to not be too obvious with it. The light tapping on your lower body signifies that he is comfortable with you but he doesn't want you to take offence. Being that it is just a tap and doesn't linger, you could surmise that it was friendly, like a tap one would get over the shoulder by a friend or stranger. However, he is also hoping that as time goes on, you understand his intention.

30. He Challenges Your Sexual Prowess

He has a sly way in which he goes about having you defend your sexual prowess. You may not be aware of what he is trying to do, however you keep finding yourself constantly defending just how good you are sexually. This is how he unconsciously gets you to start thinking about intimacy when you are interacting with him. While you are defending your prowess, you are unconsciously revealing more and more about your sexual preferences without even realizing it.

31. He Relates To Your Sexual Prowess

Once he has gotten you to start defending your sexual prowess by unconsciously revealing more about your own preferences, he draws parallels to what you have revealed. He gives the impression that he is into the same thing so that there is a commonality between you. Once he has you thinking about the commonality, he has you thinking about him in an intimate sense.

32. He Asks To Keep Something Of Yours

You may have given him something of yours and he asks if it is alright for him to keep it. You tell him that he can and then he tells you that he thinks it's his good luck charm or something to this end. This is how he gets to make you feel like something you gave him is a positive representation of your own energy. He is associating a good feeling with something that you gave him. This makes you feel good about him and may even prompt you to give him something else in the near future.

33. He Gets Overly-Excited Around You

He gets so excited sometimes when you are around. He gets louder or just more animated. He may beat on his chest more or spontaneous start doing an exercise work out. He just becomes this ball of energy. This is how he is trying to make you see the effect you have on him. He wants this energy to become infectious.

34. He Licks His Upper Lip

He may do this in a subtle way. In other words, he may not go all out with an outstretched tongue reaching the top of his lips. It would be more of a subtle lick. His tongue doesn't reach the top of his lips but starts midway. It is a brief touch of the tongue that stays in the middle of his upper lip and not so much a swipe of the entire lip. He is flirting with you in this way because he is using his tongue as somewhat of a sexual reminder. He wants you to remember it and wonder about it.

35. He Often Jokingly Proposes Marriage

He tells you that you both should get married jokingly. You notice that he does this quite regularly. He just throws out the word marriage even when you are both just getting to know each other. He makes it obvious that he is joking, however, he says it enough that he now has you subconsciously thinking about what it would be like to be married to him. You are beginning to associate him with a much more profound vision that could stay with you for a while.

36. He Tells You That You Are Beautiful A Lot

You may not think too much of it because you believe that he does this with every woman, however, it doesn't change the fact that he keeps telling you that you are beautiful. He has set you apart in the sense that he knows that you are appealing to the eye, at least to him, and he isn't going to think this way about every girl out there. He tells you that you are beautiful so that you start loosening up to his words and you feel good when you are around him.

37. He Makes Your Favorite Drink And Watches You Drink It

He knows what you like to drink and proactively makes it for you. It could be your favorite alcoholic drink or even a health drink. He makes this drink for you because he knows that it will make you realize that he is thoughtful. He watches you intently as you drink it. He watches your throat as it swallows and your body as it relaxes in response. He wants you to know exactly what he is doing. It is like he is having an intimate moment with you without the both of you actually being physically intimate.

38. He Pinches You

He pinches your arm or your thigh. It is a soft pinch. He is being playful when he does this. He is hoping that you react with either pinching him back or perhaps a light slap across his chest or face. This has now created contact between you. That is the first strong sign that he is getting you to react to him in a physical way. He pinches you more because he is getting the kind of reaction he wants from you. Playful physical contact.

39. He Hugs You And Lingers

Most platonic hugs are relatively short. In his case however, you notice that his hugs linger and last much longer than the regular platonic hug. In fact, it may linger to the extent that you have to be the one to pull back or ask him if he will let go. The lingering hug is a form of flirting that he uses to get you to realize that he enjoys being this close to you. The longer you allow him to keep it, the stronger his sense of connection with you grows.

40. He Gets Personal

He wants to know what makes you who you are. He brazenly asks you the kind of questions that most guys would stay away from when they are just getting to know a girl. It could be anything. It could relate to sex, your childhood or your relationships. The idea with this kind of flirting is to get you to lower your initial boundaries. It may take you by surprise that he is being this brazen but if you play along and divulge, you are opening yourself up to him in a way that you normally wouldn't with a guy this soon.

41. He Admires Your Style

This normally isn't so much about physical beauty but more so about style. When he flirts with you in this way, he is going to specifically talk about certain facets of your style that really appeal to him. Whether it's your style in fashion or your style in just how you look at life in general, he lets you know about it. This is how he flirts with your mind and gets you to feel more of an acceptance of him. You may feel inclined to admire his style as well thereby causing even more of a connection with him.

42. He Eats Slowly As He Watches You

He uses food as a tool to flirt with you. He eats his food in a slow and deliberate way. As he does this, he is hoping that you watch his mouth moving slowly and deliberately with every bite. As you watch this, you may become so focused on his eating that you temporarily forget about your own food. It is a conscious way in which he gets you wondering about him and why he is eating so slowly. You may start thinking about how gentle he is being with his food and what that could mean about him as a lover.

43. He Washes Your Hands

If he has prepared a meal for the both of you or you have ordered in but you want to wash your hands, he may use that occasion as an opportunity to flirt with you. He may wash your hands for you, underneath the faucet. He does it gently as though he is savoring every second of it and finding the smoothness of your palms alluring. You may lose yourself in this moment as you watch his hands slowly gliding over yours.

44. He Pokes Fun Of His Insecurities

This is more of a subtle and even sly approach to flirting. He uses some of his own personal insecurities to poke fun of himself. You consequently tell him that he is so much better than that and not to put himself down. Now he has you. You start finding ways to try to avoid laughing but lift him up at the same time. At this point, you are invested in his mental well-being. This is how he has gotten you to care about it and also care about making him feel better.

45. He Is Shirtless In An Isolated Setting

You may have stopped by to pick something up or just say hello and you are greeted by a shirtless guy. This is more of a sign of flirting when it is in a more private setting where he is the only one around and there is no one else to observe him but yourself. He typically follows this up with rubbing on his chest from time to time as you are talking to him so that he can direct your attention to that exposed part of his body.

46. He Is Uncharacteristically Close To You As He Helps You With Something

He may be helping you fix something or learn how to use a piece of equipment, etc. You notice that he is uncharacteristically close to you. His body is brushing against yours or lightly pressing against yours as he is teaching you or showing you. He is creating a closeness to you through a shared experience. He wants see if you are comfortable when he does it and if you respond in kind.

47. He Often Asks You To Help Him Put Something On Or Adjust It

He often asks you to help him with his tie or give him some support while he tries to fit into a new suit, pair of shoes etc. You may be innocently thinking that all you are doing is helping him out but he has done this often enough that he is showing that he wants you to be close to him and even partake in him dressing up. He has been trying to get you to feel so comfortable being around him in these situations that you have no trouble thinking about him in more intimate capacities.

48. He Asks You To Help Him Pick Out What He Should Wear

This is a subtle way of flirting. As he shows you what he is thinking about wearing, he is asking your opinion on what is best. He then asks you to go into his closet to see what you can find. You go there and you are going through his clothes. You are touching them and even getting their scent. You may not be acknowledging it at the time but the longer you are in there, the more familiar you become with how he dresses and how he smells. It sticks to your subconscious when you are no longer around him.

49. He Sends You Photos That Make Him Look Physically Appealing

He may send you a photo that shows him on a beach with his friends. He may have done it in order to show you what he was doing on his most recent vacation at an exotic location. However, he is indirectly flirting with you because he has sent you a photo that shows him half-exposed and frolicking on a beach. This is how he uses an excuse of a vacation photo to get you to see him in a more exposed fashion in the hopes that you will find him attractive and linger on his image.

50. He Continuously Whispers In Your Ear

He isn't necessarily telling you anything that needs to be whispered. However, you notice that he constantly leans in to whisper in your ear. You get so used to him doing this that your body starts automatically leaning in to his face as he does it. You feel the breath and warmth of his voice in your ear. You are now getting increasingly comfortable with him being this close. This level of comfort could eventually lead to much more.
